

The position of Research Establishments
Transfer basic knowledge into industrial applications by further developing and integrating technologies

The association of European Research Establishments in Aeronautics (EREA) was created in 1994 by the seven major national Research Establishments in the European Union to provide industry, operators and governments with a cost-effective high-quality aviation technology base through the coordinated use of capabilities, resources, personnel and facilities.

EREA is active in the field of civil, military and space related aviation.
